

1. Mill around and stop someone
2. Introduce yourself if you don't already know them
3. Find out one of the following things about them
(use each box just once)... and then move to a new partner

1. Mill around and stop someone
2. Introduce yourself if you don't already know them
3. Find out one of the following things about them
(use each box just once)... and then move to a new partner

What's your biggest concern about using consensus decision making?	Name one thing about yourself that's an asset in a meeting run by consensus (e.g you're a good listener)
What's the most exciting decision you've ever been involved in?	Natural dictator? Natural co-operator? Follower? Leader? Or anything in between? What best describes you, and why?

What's your biggest concern about using consensus decision making?	Name one thing about yourself that's an asset in a meeting run by consensus (e.g you're a good listener)
What's the most exciting decision you've ever been involved in?	Natural dictator? Natural co-operator? Follower? Leader? Or anything in between? What best describes you, and why?