

1. Mill around and stop someone
2. Introduce yourself if you don't already know them
3. Find out one of the following things about them
(use each box just once)... and then move to a new partner

What's your biggest concern about taking nonviolent direct action?	Name one thing about yourself that would be an asset on an action (e.g staying calm under pressure)
Why this blockade? What makes you want to explore going to Hinkley in March?	Name one thing about yourself that could be a liability on an action (e.g losing your temper)
What's the most inspirational action you've taken part in, heard about, or seen in the media?	Ask your own question...

1. Mill around and stop someone
2. Introduce yourself if you don't already know them
3. Find out one of the following things about them
(use each box just once)... and then move to a new partner

What's your biggest concern about taking nonviolent direct action?	Name one thing about yourself that would be an asset on an action (e.g staying calm under pressure)
Why this blockade? What makes you want to explore going to Hinkley in March?	Name one thing about yourself that could be a liability on an action (e.g losing your temper)
What's the most inspirational action you've taken part in, heard about, or seen in the media?	Ask your own question...